It seems to be a main object of the dispatches to magnify the exploits of nogro regiments. That will not help the cause at all, nor render the policy of employing them a

The meanness of the whole affair the world will see. The white man asks the poor negro to risk his life and shed his blood for a white man's government, in which the negro has no part, and never can have any. These fanatics may prate about all men being created equal but the truth will remain that the white man is white, and that the American citizen of Af rican descent is black. The distinction of race and the prejudice of race will remain, and no laws and no power will alter them. The negro will fall, as soon as this contest is over, to the same level he occupied before In the free States he has been allowed no rights, and only such privileges as the white man would dole out. He is not allowed to vote, to hold effice, to serve on juries, to bear testimony against a white man. He is not even allowed to live in some States unless he resided there before their present Constitutions were adopted; nor will law or power

The highest duty a man can perform for his government is to risk his life on the field of battle in its behalf. If it be not his goverament, in which he has the same rights as others, he is under no moral obligations to perform such a duty. A subordinate race, excluded from the rights of free government cannot justly be called on to fight for that gov ernment. To call upon him to per'orm such a service is an ungenerous, mean act.

The white man in the United States has no claim on the poor negro to perform such service by anything in the past, and by the nature of the case can offer him nothing in the future but generations of suffering, owing to the attempt to place him in a position God has not fitted him for. An old negro is reported to have said he didn't see why he should fight. He had seen dogs fight about a bone, but the bone never fought. In either case it would be nawed up. We suspect a white man furaished him this illustration. The fate of the negro at last is to be eaten up by the party that wins, if either side over win.

The policy is, therefore, unjust and unnatuworld, and will only work ill at last. It will come home to plague its authors

It is said the rebel; began this process of using the negro. We do not believe they are any too good to do it. We believe, if the conspirators against the Union found it neceseary to gain their end, they would arm and employ every negro in the South. Some Union men have an admiration for the rebels, and think it enough to justify any act if the rebels did the like. We don't see that we are warranted in throwing away Constitutions and laws, and doing mean acts generally, because the rebels have done such things. We have

The Jacobins in the Senate of Illinois have broken a quorum and run off to St Louis, as their brethren did in Indiana. This party are unfit to manage any government, and would destroy the best one on earth. It was a sad day for the United States when they got so much control. We shall see if the people, with sad experience, will again trust such a class of mer. They have about as much appreciation of Constitutions and laws as Hottentots. They are always eager for offices they are unfit to hold, and get power under Constitutions they make haste to trample under foot. They and the Southern robbers cught to be voked together, for the two classes have about the same crude notions of government. They are both utterly incompetent to manage free

The radicals of Missouri are not pleased with the President. He doesn't make suitable steamship line, which can now scarcely ac Col. J. O. Massachusetts, which, in the Revolutionary war, so nobly sustained her principles, appears to very little advantage in the present struggle. No matter bow they attempt to disguise it or deny it, it is true beyond question that the pestilent teachings of that school of poli ticians who for many years have disgraced the Old Bay State is the original cause of the present rebellion in the South, and now to speeches of their politicians, will show that this war is held to be one no less sacred than every Postoffice District in the State. Will our friends the one that divided the thirteen colonies act, or procure the services of some efficient person in from the mother country. Indeed, they go further, and proclaim the cause more sacred still than that one. A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN THIS with their hearts fired by incendiary appeals DISTRICT AT THE ENSUING AUGUST to them, it would seem that destruction to the South would be an acceptable sacrifice to God; add to this their claim that this is a Massachusetts war, and State pride would induce their youth to rush into the ranks.

It may seem incredible, but it is nevertheles true that with all these incentives, Massachusetts is still behind with her quota. Before the present policy was adopted, Governor Andrew excused the State for the reason that the war was not carried on to free the slaves in the South, and declared that that was all that was necessary to fill up the numbers, and more. When it was adepted, however, the volunteers came in no faster than before. Massachusetts is still behind, not withstanding the fact that California has gra ciously handed over to her three or four regi ments to make up her number, and she is now

raking the sinks of all the cities to make up

regiments of blacks to discharge the duties

which the whites have refused to perform. We can't account for this vast discrepance between words and deeds. We do not feel disposed to yield to an unreasoning prejudice for certainly we number among our acquaintances some of the most excellent gentlemen, who are an honor to the Old Bay State, and would be to any State, though we must say, to their credit, that they do not agree with her polities or prejudices; but there is the fact. While she urges inflammatory appeals, and denounces as traitors all who talk of compromise with armed rebels, she doesn't supply the material to deal with the said rebels in the field. This course of conduct is, however, by no means confined to Massachusetts. There are a number of stay-at-home patriots who distinguish themselves in the same way in this State, and who are loudest in urging a vigorous prosecution of the war, but are only zealous in the prosecution of contracts.

Were it not for the elections, we would say that under the circumstances the people of Massachusetts are not fairly represented by their speakers and public men, but with the exception of Boston, and even that was, we believe, radical in its last election; the whole State votes with the John Brownites. As we have said, reviewing the early history of the State, and comparing it with her present performances, we cannot account for them. The State seems to have run to seed; to be perish ing of the dry rot or something of the kind. It is annoying with conceit, where it is not ridiculous, and makes more pretensions than any other State in the Union. We are very much of the opinion that, unless some other party gets at the head of the offices, the State which gid so much for American frecdom in the revolution will become ridiculous and contemptible. She has already lost the respect with which she was formerly held in by which several persons were severely ina great degree, and a vigorous pursuit of jured. A man named John W. Wm. B. Astor, who was blessed with a rich father, but is cursed with dyspepsy, is mouth. The re ult is easily anticipated. He is now over sixty years of age, and is warmly attached to the localities in which boyhood was passed. As an incident illustrating this, it is said that from his bedroom window he has a view of the o'd Bowery, which he remembers as a country road. He would not have a tall building put up to obstruct this view, though he thus loses considerable rent.

AMERICANIZING NORTHERN MEXICO.-The San Francisco Bulletin says that the large investment of capital in the deserted and undeveloped mines of Northern Mexico promise soon to Americanize that section, as, in addition to the immense amount of machinery and other freight going, there can be added a constant flow of Californians, whose skill and knowledge of modern mining cannot fail to induce further emigration. The effect of this interest is already felt by the San Francisco commodate the passengers offering, and still less the freight. Much freight is now sent by sail vessels which would be shipped by steam er if proper facilities were afforded.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your polite note, on behalf of the Lo. al Lesgue of Union citizens in the city of New York, asking my co-operation as General-in-Chief of the Veterans of the war of 1812, to procure their attendance at a mass assemblage of loyal citizens, to be held at Utica on the 27th of May inst., for the pur-pose of manifesting a fixed determination to sustain the Government in its rightful efforts read the addresses of their orators and the to quell the rebellion and sustain the Union the Constitution and the supremacy of the

In answer to the invitation, I beg leave to remark that the necessity of the contemplated assemblage at Utica, unless it be a political movement for partisan ends, is not very apparent to me; at no period of the rebellion has greater unanimity prevailed in the Northern States than at the present time to preserve the integrity of the Union and the constitutional rights of its citizens; and equally unani-mous appears to be the conviction of the utter incompetency of the National Administration conduct our civil and military aff irs so as to bring the cruel civil war, which is rending asunder our great Republic, to a successfu

The lesson taught them in the war of 1812 had caused them to set a high value on the

had caused them to set a high value on the Union, as a guaranty of national strength and gratness, but experience has also taught them that incapacity in civil and military leaders is as fatal to the success of a glorious cause and a gallant army, as treachery, venality or cowardice; that stern repuke and nality or cowardice; that stern rebuke and public censure, not flattery and tame acqui-esence, were the way to correct self-conceit and ignorance, in its career of blindness and

The Veterans, as far as I represent them, go for the entire Union, and the suppression of the rebellion by force of arms, if practicable, for the entire Union, and the support the rebeilion by force of arms, if practicable, but they regard the administration of President Liccoln in reference to these ends, patricite though it be, as miscalculation and inefficient, and to support it by large majorities would be to confirm it in palpable error; and that a charge in its disastrous policy may be affected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at the effected by throwing it into a minority at he confidence of the nation.

Force if Necessary. Oswedo, May 29. GENTLEMEN: I received some time ago our letter inviting me to attend the public accting called to vindicate the right of the to express their sentiments upon political questions. It was not in my power to be present at the meeting, and illness has prevented me until the present moment from answering your letter. I answer it now, though late, both to explain my apparent incivility, and also because I think that in the present crisis no loyal citizen ought to shrink resent crisis no loyal cinzen ought to shrink rom the expression of his opinion. The action that has taken place since your meeting was held convinces me that it is the intention of the President and his advisors to force and terror. For this purpose they have established, and do now actually enforce, martial law in several loyal States; and they will doubtless do the same in New York and everywhere else unless they are made to know that the people will not submit to it.

To many persons the words "martial law"

the indorsement of no mas. At the dawn of manhood they risked their limbs and lives to vindicate American rights and independence against a foreign enemy; and on every political issue which has since agitated the country they have always been found sustaining the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the laws.

At the first announcement of John Brown's raid into Virginia, in the autumn of 1859, the General-in-Chief of the Veterans issued to them a general order, which was widely circulated, warning them that a civil war was at hand, and pointing out their duty in these emphatic words:

"In the event of an insurrection or rebellion, I need not tell you what your duty will be; you learnt it in the war of 1812, when you were mustered and armed, not only to repel of the highest judicial of our country. The language is that of Judge Woodbury, in delivering the opinion of the Court in a case determined by the Supreme Court of the United States: "By it," says the Court, "every citiz:n, instead of reposing under the shield of known and fixed laws as to his liberty, property and life, exists with a repe round his neck, subject to be hung up by a military despot at the next lamp post, under the sentence of some drum-head court-martial."

It is true that Republicans have reason to believe that they will be safe from the horrors of this law under a Republican administration. No Republican or Abolitionist has yet been arrested, imprisoned, or banished, and they may reasonably calculate that none ever will be. Such persons are permitted to stigmatise the Constitution as a league with hell, and insist that the war shall be prosecuted, not to restore the Union, but to destroy it, without being regarded as guilty of any "disloyal practice." The only sufferers, so far, have been Democrats. Indeed, the very purpose for which the establishment of martial law is sought by the managers of the club and leagues is to destroy the Democratic party. And we find it declared in an official document emanating from the War Department that to support the Democratic party is to support the cause of the rebels. This terrible engine, then, is to be set in motion by one political party for the perseis to support the cause of the rebels. This terrible engine, then, is to be set in motion by one political party for the persecution of another, arming neighbor against neighbor, and setting issues in every household. The machinery is prepared. Already the secret societies are in motion, bound by what caths I know not. That they who design these things design all their dreadful consequences I co not believe; but they know little of human nature and little of history who cannot discern them. Under a single despot there is equality; from a single despot there may be hope of escape. But the worst form that despotism can assume is that of the tyranny of party over party; and if anything can add to its horrors it is when the desirate of the tyranny of party over party; and if anything can

Significant Speech of Senator Trumbull of Illinois-Wholesale but Distasteful Advice to Abolitionists.

Hon. Lyman Trumbull, Senator for Illinois, nade the following speech at the Republican meeting held in the Courthouse square, Chica go, on Thursday evening:

Mr. Trumbull said: It was rather embar rassing to attempt to speak to an ausience which insisted on hearing some one else, but solemn convictions of duty compel him to speak, when under ordinary circumstances he speak, when under ordinary circumstances he would have remained silent.

He did not come to influme their passions, already too much aroused. Their country was in danger, and they must look the peril in the face. No adjectives he could pile up, no vile names he could apply to those who do not agree with him, calling them copperheads and traitors, whould assist in stressing the substitute of the substitute of the super lock of the supermease rebellion or in asserting the supremacy of the Constitution and the laws.

He did not desire to inspire them with hurrahs, but he wished to talk to their judg-ments and inspire them through appeals to

The times, he said, are grave! A majority of the people of our State are taking ground against the Administration—and why? In the name of heaven, why is this? I will tell you why; I will point out to you some of our mis takes that may be corrected in the future. The reason is, we have not adhered to David Crockett's motto, "Be sure you are right and then go shead!" [A voice—"We are always right."] I have lived long enough to know that I am not infallible; perhaps you are. I have some respect for the opinion of others. One of our mistakes is, that we allow our or ponents to make false issues. But this is not the worst. The great charge, the charge that has damaged the Administration above all others, is that we are in favor of the exerothers, is that we are in layor of the exercise of arbitrary power; that we are opposed to the freedom of speech and opinion, to the freedom of the press, in favor of curtilling personal liberty, and in favor of a despoism. Now we should not allow these things. We have been the advocate of free presch for the last forty ways and head free speech for the last forty years, and should not allow the party which during the whole time has advocated the gag, to usurp our plac. We are fighting for the restoration of the Union and the preservation of the Constitu tion and all the liberties it guarantees to every citizen. And it makes me feel bad when I hear some honest friend, brimming full of patriotism, say he does not care for the Constitution and does not want to have it forced into his way or thrust in his face until the war is over. The rebels cannot thrust it in his fac for they have no rights under it save the right to be tried and hung for treason. [Continued applause.] In certain districts the military applause.] In certain districts the military law is supreme. Gen. Grant is in command of an army in the State of Mississippi, which is in revolt. Will any one deny his right to make arrests, his right to suppress new-papers, and level trees, like those around you tonight, in order to get a range for his guns? No. And yet these are all arbitrary powers. But these exercises of it are not the trouble-some cases. The great difficulty is in these districts, where rightful civil government is in operation, where the judicial tribunals are open and the law respected—the laws which open and the law respected—the laws which afford a remedy for every wrong. As a rule, we must remember that the civil law is superior to the military law, and the cases are rare, very rare, where the rule can be re-versed. It here resolves itself into the plain naked question of whether the President and his Generals, by the simple clicking of a tele-graph instrument, can cause the imprisen-ment of A, B, or C. If one General can do it, anny of party over party; and if snything can add to its horrors it is when the dominant faction is inflamed by fanaticism and led by priests.

What matters it that these men are conscientious, that they act under a sense of duty, of religious duty? I do not impeach their motives. The more conscientious they are the worse. All fanatics are conscientious, they are the worse. All fanatics are conscientious they are its this that makes their tyranny of all tyrannies the most insufferable.

A LION CAN LOVE. - The New York Sunday Dispatch relates the following: In one compartment of the cage in which the animals perform at Van Amburgh's beautiful menagerie is a huge tawny Asiatic lior. His room-mate is a black female tiger. This tigrees is small, compared to the regal lion, but is highly valued as a zoological curiosity, and the only specimen of the black tiger in this country. She was purchased by Mr. Van Amburgh two years ago, and has lived with the lion ever since. The attachment between the two is remarkable. When other animals are in the same cage, and any affront is offered to the little tigress, she runs under the lion, and woe be to the animal that dares to approach her. She has been twice removed from the lion; but until she has returned, the generous beast would take neither food nor rest, while the frantic manner in which he dashed at the bars was a sufficient warning that the further detention of the tigress would be a dangerous matter. Should his mate die, the lion would probably pine to death. Once, while she was taken way, a lioness was substituted. The lion inbroke her spine and crushed some of her ribs. Remarkable Order of the Treasury partment-Trade of Lexington.

From the Lexington Observer and Reporter. Our merchants are hereafter to import in our wants and desires down to a necessity. Our merchants are hereafter to import in round numbers but $34,000 of all kinds of merchandise per month' into the county of Fayette—just $1.50 per capita for the county—and no merchant shall job or wholesale, and no one shall purchase over two months' supplies. Now, what does all this mean? Are our merchants to be all broken up? for such an order surely amounts to little less than a total prohibition of trade. Is all the business done with this and the surrounding country to be total prohibition of trade. Is all the business done with this and the surrounding country to be totally annulled, and Lexington to be further stripped of what little trade remains since the inauguration of this wicked rebellion? Our county, one of the richest and largest tax paying the State is classed with such counties as

Since the policy of arming negroes has been definitely adopted, we may ask at this late hour why the experiment has not been carried out? Is it because the negroes do not respond with such alacrity as was expected, or that the Abolitionists have repented of their scheme, the Abolitionists have repented of their schome, that we do not see sable heroes marching on in serried phalanx to the sound of battle? in scrifed phalanx to the sound of battle? "Traitorous Words."-A Significant Test.

In one of the towns in Connecticut, just were discussing the measures and candidates much opposed to slavery that I will never live in a slave State. But I believe that the Constitution has given no power to the General Government to interfere in this matter; and that to have slaves or no slaves depends selves independently of the North. "Well," said a Democrat, "do you oppose sentiments of that kind?" "We do," replied the town

licans. "It is Tom Seymour copperheadism," said another, "and the man that uttered these detestable words ought to be confined in Fort Luayette, and be fed on bread and water during the war. He is a traitor." The Democrat laughed, and quietly said: "Gentlemen, Abraham Lincoln, the President of the United States, uttered these words."
"It's a lie—Tom Seymour said it—Tom Seymour is the traitor," exclaimed the Rec at, on an inspection of the bound volume of the Globe in the State Lbrary at Hartford, containing the speech of President Lincoln and the words that we have quoted. Colonel Marc Mundy, Commandant of this Post, has rooms at the Louisville Hotel, where strangers going South, arriving after office hours, and entitled to passes, may obtain them at seven o'clock A. M., in time to take the morning trains. No passes, however, will be given by the Commandant of the Post at his hotel to others than those arriving after office hours.

Wednesday night, when the theater let out, it was raining very hard, and as it was crowded with ladies and gentlemen, a great many of whom were without umbrellas, hacks and carriages were called in requisition. As is generally the case on a rainy or disagreeable night, the streets were crowded with hacks. The drivers of these vehicles too often take advantage of the inclemency of the weather, and charge just what they choose. Several ladies and gentlemen being compelled to go to thair homes, rode in some of these hacks, some one and others two and three squares from the theater, and were charged the exorbitant sum of $5 00. A few of them had enough honor left to charge $3 for riding a square or two. Such rascally proceedings should be put a stop to; it is not only swindling, but it is stealing. The concurrent testimony of descriers leaves no doubt that the long smouldering fires of revolution are breaking out in the interior of North Carolina. The disaffection has reached a point far beyond even the significant intentions of the journals of the Sate. Several thousand armed refugees from the conscription have been for weeks entrenched in the mountains, successfuly deiving the Confederate authorities.

The Raleigh Standard bitterly complains that the rebel conscription act has not been enforced in Georgia and Mississippi. Norih Carolina has been raked as with a fine tooth comb.

The Raleigh Secretary of Secretary o

Washington, June 10.

Yesterday the greatest cavalry battle of the war was fought on the Rappahannock. The result has been the deteat of the rebels, who, as captured correspondence shows, were about to attempt a most extensive raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania, under command of Stuart, with some 15,000 cavalry. It was known that Lee had assembled his cavalry, supported by artillery and infantry, between culpepper Courthouse and Beverly's Ford, designing to send them on a raid, and Gen. Pleasarton was sent with a portion of the divisions of our cavalry, commanded by Gens. Baford and Gregg respectioely, to intercept them.

The forces under Buford, consisting of portions of the First, Second, Fifth and Sixth Regular cavalry and the Sixth Pennsylvania cavalry, reached Beverly for Dearly Monday evening and crossed the river unopposed. Shortly after midnight the force under General Gregg, consisting of portions of the Eighth and Ninth New York. Eighth Illinois and Third Indiana cavalry reached the ford and commenced ssing at 4 A. M.

The force which was on the right first met the enemy's pickels half a mile south of the ford, where a severe engagement immediately commenced, the rebels being in heavy force and resisting the advance of our troops with continuous hand-to-hand fighting. When Gregg brought his force up to the fight and became engaged, the enemy gradually gave way, disputing every inch of ground desperately, however. In this way we made more than a dozon charges into the midst of the rebel ranks, relying almost entirely upon the saber, which was used with terrible effect.

The enemy, on the other hand, repeatelly charged, relying on their revolvers for the most part. Both sides were repeatedly driven back in the eourse of the battle, though we succeeded in driving the rebels, Fitzhugh's, Lee's and Wade Hampton's divisions of cavalry, with artillery, all commanded by General Stuart, back to a poi

DR. JOHN BULL'S COMPOUND

The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century. NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CONnected with the history of the Materia Me' on of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioner io med cal discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL, of Louisvite. Ay. His iminitable preparation of Saragnarilla, has long stood as the head of the various compounds of that v.hable days. His Compoun Pecropat.

or Wild Cherry, has necome a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Loze-gea, in le s than a year after their introduction attained a reptration as wide-spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of this life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination.

DYSPEPSIA, And its attendent train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Matoria Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A ull account of this wonderful plant may be fund in the lith edition of the U.S. Dispensatory, pages 1387 and the 11th edition of the U. S. Dispensatory, pages 1357 and 1358.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper-distilled Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such thing at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the

YOUNG MEN. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE—Dr.
H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of these cases caused by a secret habit which rums, both hody and mind, unfitting the unfortunate incividual for either bosiness or society. The sad effects of the e early habits, or the excess of riper years, or to weaken and deb litate the constitution destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfectle the natural feetings, and exhaust the vital encycles of manhood; the elegators of life are marred, the object of marriage restrated, and existence itself rendered a term of uncasting unserry and regret. Description of the "Louisville Reaper."

THIS MACHINE WEIGHS 80 POUNDS, CUTS 6% FEET WIDE. AND FROM 4 TO 24 INCHES HIGH. IT IS OF LIGHT BRAFT AND WITHOUT APPARENT side-draft. It will cut, under lavorable circus stances, from 1s to 25 acres per day. There is no driver's seat on the Muchine. This lessens she weight and leaves all the gearing and boxes convenient for of ing and adjusting. The driver rives the horse on the operate side from the cut-ters, as discharge is all secured in an Iron frame; the bearings are long and secure from dirt. With care this part of the Machine will last for many years. The high cut of the "Louisville Reaper" saves the bandling of a large portion of the heavier that of the straw, and the forker lays of the grain in perfect hendled of doing over one-half the as ount of work per day. The change is highest cut can be made by two persons in one minute. Farmers who usually have to spend a half hour in making this change, will appreciate this improvement. A lever the tongue and neck yoke.

Description of the Louisville Mower."

THIS MICHINE IS MADE AIMOST ENTIRELY OF IRON. IT IS EXCEEDINGLY COMPACT AND SIMPLE, AND STRONG BEYOND ANY POSSIBILITY OF breaking. It cuts a swath 4 feet 4 inches wide, and cuts even and smooth in all kirds of gr. se. thas a lever for raising the finger-bar from the gr- und for passing obstructions or for moving from fed to field. It is arranged to it row itself out of gear when backing and is convenient to handle in every respect. It weighs 650 pounds, which is heavier than several of the newly-invented Machines, but Lone too heavy, we think, to stand the rough and careless usage to which all mowers are subject. The ongue is loose, and there is no weight upon the horses' necks.
